Steam Communication with San Francisco and Panama.

A year makes great changes. A year ago everybody cried out for population and steamers to bring population. Even a popular subscription was volunteered to pay a subsidy if the local government would vote no aid; or if the latter would vote half the subsidy, our business men and property-holders promised to supply the other half. Our 200,000 square miles of territory were deemed to be intrinsically rich, but yet of no available value without population. So for steamships and population there was a general agitation. Ultimately a subsidy was granted; and on the first of August the term expired, and the money we presume has been paid. But what a change has come over the spirit of our dreams! Neither the government nor people seem to care one cent whether we have steam communication with San Francisco or Panama, or whether another soul arrives in the country during the next five years. The most unpardonable apathy exists on the subject. The steamship and population spasm has exhausted itself; a reaction has taken place; and we are told that we don't require any more population or steamships. The government more especially appears perfectly independent about the matter; or, to speak more correctly, perfectly careless whether the mails arrive once a week or once a month, hap-hazard or with regularity and dispatch, or whether the tide of population sweeps out or flows into the country. In their estimation 10,000 in British Columbia and 5000 in Vancouver Island is more than they can manage. A country every way capable of supporting a million, or five persons to the square mile, is content with fifteen thousand inhabitants, or one-fourteenth of a person to a square mile! What a commentary on the administrative ability of our rulers! In the full tide of progress, we are asked to come to a stand-still. The ship of state is to be brought to anchor, whilst there is a fair wind and a flowing sea. We confess we cannot comprehend why such a policy should obtain, nor why redoubled energy and enterprise should not be put forth to urge our common country ahead, rather than allow it to fall back to its listless condition of a year ago, when a population of twenty thousand was set at ten years hence. Nothing but the possession of a small unemployed population has galvanized us into life to form a settlement in Cowichan—and nothing but a still greater pressure will ever, whilst the present rulers maintain their position, inspire enough energy, enterprise, or financial ability to promote the substantial interests of the country.

Within the last year we have had steam subsidy meetings, schemes to lay on a British steamer to San Francisco, if only a tub. We have been flooded with memorials to the Home Government for signature; we have had discussions in the Assembly about steam and immigration. The London Times has spoken out for steam subsidies for us. London steamship companies have been importuned to put on steamships—steam has been the cry; and nothing but a British steamship line would do. But now what do we find? A gentleman, Captain Wells, the representative of the South Pacific Mail Steamship Company—a company who keep in South American ports fifteen steamships—a company who, relying on our outcry here and in England for steam communication, had selected a steamship and her commander, for trade between here and San Francisco, but afterwards preferred to send Captain Wells here to report—that gentleman arrives here, makes known his mission to the Government; but is received with coldest indifference; not the slightest attempt is made to interest his company in our behalf.

Those ordinary courtesies for which we pay our Governor and Colonial Secretary are not even extended. Those functionaries wrap themselves up in the mantle of apathy, volunteer a map and a few statistics, and bid the representative of a wealthy British steamship company a "good morning," with all the nonchalance imaginable—not even condescending to give an invitation to dinner, or exhibiting the smallest degree of anxiety to enter into negotiation or submit a proposition for putting on a steamship line between this port and San Francisco and Panama. Such is the business capacity of our silver-laced Governor, our amphibious Provincial Secretary, and our factotum Attorney General. One would have thought that they would have been on tip-toe to receive such an agent, rather than exhibit themselves as torpid as toads in winter, or show as little interest in steam communication with San Francisco and Panama as they would about a canoe mail to San Juan Island.

What kind of an opinion can a gentleman who came four or five thousand miles through our representations, through memorials, and otherwise, give of us colonists and our public men? His report to his principals must be substantially: "Neither Governor nor heads of departments seem to care one whit about a British steamship line; British connections are a matter of no moment with them; American steamships have the preference." Whether these words or others tantamount to be used, the country is likely to be injured by the apathy of our dignitaries. A revulsion in the feelings of a great company is likely to occur. And the next time we memorialise the Home Government, or solicit steamship companies to put on a steamship line, we will be told that we are a Yankee Colony, and have no sympathies with British capitalists, notwithstanding all our anxiety for an Imperial Steam Subsidy.

If the colonies were admittedly too poor to grant a subsidy, the manifestation of a warm interest in any British line of steamships would be some consolation. Even that is studiously withheld; and the inference left to be drawn that we in all things prefer to be an out-port of San Francisco, with our carrying trade done in American bottoms.

Capt. Wells has no proposition to make; is not authorized to make or accept one; but was simply sent to report, with a view to establishing a steamship line. Nevertheless he is open to receive propositions; and, we presume, naturally expected that our Government would have shown a disposition to make one. But he will leave on the next steamer, very much disappointed, no doubt, at our utter want of sympathy or interest in the establishment of a British line of steamships between this port and San Francisco or Panama.

THE GREAT INDIAN SHOE QUESTION.—In Europe we don our hats upon entering a house; in Asia they doff their shippers. The arrangement in both cases is dictated by practical good sense. In Europe we wear a covering for the head which is light and easily removable, and which, in civil life at any rate, is so ugly that no sane man desires to wear it longer than he is obliged. The latter may not be the original reason why we cast it as an expression of courtesy, but the reason might pass in the present day. It is most certainly of all articles of costume the most easily dispensed with. To take off one's coat, for instance, to a lady in the park, as an illustration to a bow, would be inconvenient; and to remove that garment upon entering a house would scarcely have a graceful effect, if it involved an appearance in the drawing-room in one's shirt-sleeves. As for taking off one's boots, considering that the process can seldom be effected without the aid of machinery, and even then is apt to involve an undignified struggle, I should like to see the man who would submit to such an infliction whenever he dined out, or made a morning call; to say nothing of the unpleasantness of walking about the house in his corns, and the battle to get the boots on again when he took his leave! The Asiatic is subjected to conditions precisely the reverse. Tell him to take off his turban, and if he be a man of any caste or consideration he will feel insulted. The indignity of appearing anywhere but in his bath with a bare head would be revolting to his feelings. Moreover, he very frequently wears a turban comprised of from twenty to sixty yards of muslin, upon the folding of which he, or his servant, bestows more attention than Beau Brummel ever bestowed on his cravats. Fashion, as well as dignity, forbids its removal. Its feet, on the other hand (if such apparent confusion of terms be permissible), afford an admirable opportunity for the display of any amount of politeness. As his coat is all dressing-gown, so his boots are all slippers. He walks, but little, and when he is not walking his great comfort is to kick his boots off. Comfort and courtesy combined—could there be a happier combination.—Dickens' "All the Year Round."

CARD.

SIR—In order to counteract a report which has been circulated, that I am not qualified for admission to the bar as an Attorney, I append an extract from a despatch from His Grace the Duke of Newcastle, to His Excellency Governor Douglas, in reply to my petition to Her Majesty the Queen, which was signed by upwards of 100 of the leading inhabitants of Victoria, upwards of 20 Writers to the Signet, and Solicitors, before the Supreme Courts of Scotland, the Members of Parliament for my native city, Edinburgh, and forwarded by the Lord Advocate, first law officer of the Crown for Scotland, and representative of the Scotch Bar in the House of Commons.

(Copy No. 85.)

DOWNING STREET, 7th February, 1862.

The Cowichan Expedition.

H.M. ship Hecate, having on board His Excellency the Governor, returned to Esquimalt yesterday morning from Cowichan District, whither she departed on Monday last with 100 intending farmers. The expedition reached Cowichan at 4 o'clock, p. m., on Monday, and the settlers, divided into three parties, under the guidance of the Surveyor General and his assistant, and the Attorney General, were landed at the localities in which it is intended they shall inspect and select lands for farming purposes. The Governor also disembarked and encamped, and the party were regaled with fresh butter, milk, eggs, and other home-raised luxuries by one of the Cowichan farmers.

The few natives at present in the district (the major portion of the tribes being absent fishing) agreed without hesitation to the surrender of their lands to the Government, with the exception of their village-sites and potato-patches, being informed that when the absent members of the tribes had returned to their homes in the autumn, compensation for the lands taken up by the settlers would be made at the same rate as that previously established—amounting in the aggregate to the value of a pair of blankets to each Indian—the chiefs, of course, coming in for the lion's share of the potlatch. The Indians, one and all, expressed themselves as perfectly content with the proposed arrangement, and even appeared anxious that settlers should come among them.

One party of the settlers was dispatched to Shawanigan District, another to Somenos District, and the third to Quamichan. The settlers were all in good health and spirits, and appeared greatly pleased with the appearance of the country. The weather was fine, and from the expressions of satisfaction which fell from the lips of every member of the expedition, it is believed that many of the settlers will make the Valley of the Cowichan their permanent home. They were given to understand by His Excellency that actual residence on the land would alone entitle them to hold it.

A huge panther was shot by the Governor's groom on Tuesday in the woods just as he was preparing for a spring. The body was brought down as a trophy. Game of all kinds is abundant and numerous deer-paths were observed leading to the river shores.

The Hecate on the way down stopped in the Sansum Narrows where His Excellency went ashore and inspected the copper mines there located and was furnished by Mr. Smith, the manager of the company, with several beautiful specimens of rich copper ore.

THE STREETS.—The Town Council, at its first meeting on Monday next, will no doubt adopt or discuss measures to render the streets leading to the suburbs of the town passable during the coming winter or "rainy season." Last year the resident on a suburban lot, if he succeeded in reaching his home without being sloughed half a dozen times in the course of his walk, or more properly speaking, "wade," was considered a skilful navigator, and one who would prove a capital guide in the Mammoth Cave of Kentucky or the labyrinthian passages of the Catacombs at Paris. We well remember last fall that a respectable citizen, the father of a large family, having taken a drop too much of beer, in starting for home about twelve o'clock one night, missed his footing at Patrick's corner and tumbled head-foremost into a horrid mass of filth which covered the street in that vicinity to a depth of at least three feet, where he was nearly smothered to death before a Sergeant of Police, in going his rounds, discovered a pair of boots sticking soles-up in the mud, and rightly judging that there was a man at the other end thereof, extricated the unfortunate fellow from his uncomfortable and perilous situation and led him, reeking with filth and smelling like anything but a nosegay of flowers, to the arms of his loving wife. Of course, the City Fathers don't want their dutiful children to wade through seas of mud and filth to reach their homes from the month of October in one year to the first of April in another, and they will, therefore, we hope, do their duty at the very first meeting by the adoption of a sensible measure to provide for the improvement of the streets. They will thus not only add to the comfort of citizens generally, but will enhance the value of outside property, and afford work to several hundred idle men, who are at present in Victoria anxious and willing to engage in honest toil if it is but given them to do.

JOHN BUTTS PENITENT.—Yesterday Mr. Bishop applied to the Police Magistrate for the release of John Butts, convicted the other day of abusing Mr. Carswell and ordered to furnish security for his good behavior, which security he was unable to obtain, and has consequently lain mouldering in a cell since his arrest. The solicitor stated that John was penitent, and Mr. Carswell, being of a forgiving disposition, in the goodness of his heart, wished the prisoner released on his own recognizance. The Magistrate said that as John was not quite so great a nuisance as formerly, and as the police felt glad to get rid of him at any price, the application would be granted; and Butts is again at large. We hope it will not prove with him as with the distinguished personage mentioned in the couplet running thus:

"When the devil was sick, the devil a saint would be;
When the devil got well, the devil a saint was he."

FROM BRITISH COLUMBIA.—The steamer Eliza Anderson, with 52 passengers, arrived last evening. There is no later news from Cariboo.

GOLD.—Fine gold is reported to have been found by the party engaged in cutting the trail from Langford's Lake to Cowichan District.

LOWWEE CREEK.—This Cariboo creek, which paid so well last year, is yielding quite as handsomely this season. Hans. Tilton writes that he has struck a new lead in his claim which paid $1000 for the first day's work. Two claims adjoining Tilton's were sold last year for $500 each and are now held at $7000.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.—Thomas Powell, a marine, was yesterday committed for trial at the Assizes on a charge of assisting in the rescue of four deserters from two policemen on Sunday last. Powell, it was given in evidence, was the man who raised a mob of forty or fifty sailors and marines and took the man from the officers.

INDUCING SAILORS TO DESERT.—Yesterday the two colored men, arrested at Esquimalt on a charge of assisting sailors to desert, appeared in the police court. They were defended by Mr. Bishop. Sgt. Wade, of the Bacchante, deposed to seeing the sailors leave the house of accused, after the latter had told him that the sailors were concealed there. They went aboard the flag-ship in a boat belonging to one of the accused, who refused to allow the sergeant and his companions to follow in another boat belonging to him. The hearing of this witness consumed about two hours time, when the court rose and postponed the further enquiry until Tuesday next.

THE THEATRE.—Last evening "Paul Pry," that popular and amusing comedy, was performed by the company in a creditable manner, with Mr. John Wood as Paul, Mr. Beatty as Frank Hardy, Miss Howard as Phoebe, and Miss Dean as Eliza. The house came down several times during the evening, and the "Laughing Hyena," with Mr. Wood in the character of Hornblower, raised the greatest possible amount of fun. This evening "Robert Macaire" and "Mr. and Mrs. White" will be given.

JOSEPH MARTIN.—This man, convicted of the offence of shouting in the public streets that he "could take half-a-dozen sailors across the Sound any day," is held in custody awaiting the answer of His Excellency to the numerous signed petition in the prisoner's behalf recently sent in. As His Excellency returned yesterday from Cowichan, we may expect some action in the matter shortly. Martin (to the credit of the governor of the jail be it recorded) has not as yet been sent to work with the chain-gang, but it is feared that if the Governor's answer to the petition is adverse to the prayer, that the terms of the sentence will be carried out to the fullest extent.

A "MILL" AT THE SAW-MILL.—On Wednesday there was a "mill" at the saw-mill about a ladder—not Jacob's we hope. W. Langley, the engineer of the establishment, used a ladder once in a while to fix the machinery, and on the day stated missed it from its usual standing-place, and found that it had been carried to another portion of the premises by Thomas Hadley, also an employee. Langley requested its return to the spot from whence it had been taken—Hadley refused to oblige him, and the engineer, like our army in Flanders, "swore terribly," and struck Hadley in the face with his hand—knocking him five feet, and causing him to land on a heap of saw-dust and shavings. For this indignity Hadley demanded and obtained redress at the hands of Mr. Pemberton, by whom the engineer was convicted and fined 50s., which he paid.

A MYSTERIOUS WOMAN.—Another mysterious female has been turned up in this community. She approached a colored drayman yesterday morning and asked him to haul two trunks and some klitas to a house which she said was situated near Christ Church. The drayman accompanied her to an open lot on View street, where the trunks, etc., were found, and placing them on his dray took them to the locality named, followed by the female; but upon arriving there she stated that she had mistaken the place—that it was near the "tin" church. Arrived there she said they were to go to James Bay, and when the drayman started in that direction the woman suddenly disappeared and has not since been seen. The articles were finally brought by the drayman to the Police Barracks, where they still remain. The woman is supposed to be crazy.

HUMANITY REWARDED.—In France the society for the protection of animals does not enjoy the popular respect which it deserves, the "wits" of the capital indulging in an endless variety of jokes at its expense. The last joke is to this effect:

A countryman armed with a club, presents himself before the President of the Society and claims the first prize. He is asked to describe the act of humanity on which he founded his claim.

"I have saved the life of a wolf," replied the countryman. "I might easily have killed him with this bludgeon;" and he swung the weapon in the air, to the immense discomfort of the President.

"But where is the wolf?" inquired the latter, "what has he done to you?"

"He has just devoured my wife," was the quick reply.

The President reflects an instant, and then says, "My friend, I am of opinion that you have been sufficiently rewarded."

COMMITTEE OF THE REV. DR. PENNINGTON.—The Rev. T. C. Pennington, D. D., a colored man, and addressing religious and temperance bodies, was finally committed on Wednesday for a month by the Liverpool magistrates, on the charge of stealing a book from the shop of a Mr. Stephens, in the neighborhood of Dale street. Mr. Melly, one of the magistrates, in committing the prisoner, said that several letters had been received from friends of the prisoner, stating that he was a highly respectable man, and that he had evidently taken the book "in a fit of abstraction."—London Dispatch.

Will the Great Exhibition Pay?

The question which the great mass of the public seem now most curious and most interested about is whether or not the Exhibition will pay. Every one seems to have his own theory or opinion on this matter, and as there is hardly any which has not been caused by some more or less inaccurate statement of receipts and expense, a brief enumeration of facts on this important point may not be unacceptable to our readers, as giving them at least a correct basis on which to form their judgment in the matter. The total sum required to clear all expenses of every kind connected with the building, and, in fact, to wind up the whole affair with satisfaction to every one, and probably leave a balance of some few hundreds in hand, is £545,000. This is including the £100,000 still to be given to Messrs. Kelk and Lucas, but is exclusive of the £130,000 required to purchase the building entirely. The agreement of the contractors is that they are to receive £200,000 for the building, and all the receipts between £400,000 and £500,000; but if from this latter source they receive another £100,000, then they are to sell the building absolutely to the Commissioners for £130,000 more. Thus, if the total receipts only reach £445,000, it will clear the guarantors and pay everything, but it will leave Messrs. Kelk and Lucas without their 100,000; whereas if, as we have said, they amount to £545,000, it will satisfy every demand and leave a small balance. Towards this large sum the Commissioners have already got £200,000 in hand. The receipts since the shilling days began in payments at the doors, have varied from £2000 to £3200 per diem, the average being about £2300 a day. But to this has to be added the head-money paid by the refreshment contractors: Mr. Morrish pays five-eighths of a penny on all visitors; M. Veillard only pays on half-crown, five shilling, or season ticket visitors, having compounded by a payment of £5000 down, for his head money on the shilling days. Mr. Morrish therefore pays from £80 to £90 a day, and M. Veillard's payments are from £30 to £40. These sources of revenue, with the profits derived on the sale of catalogues, care of sticks, umbrellas, etc., have brought up the daily receipts to about £2600. So that, if the daily receipts continued throughout as low as they have hitherto been the Commissioners would only receive £255,000 in addition to the £220,000 they have already in hand. This sum would clear the guarantors and all expenses, but would leave Messrs. Kelk and Lucas with only £29,000 instead of their £100,000—a loss which every one would regret, for, taking all in all, not any have worked harder or more conscientiously for the success of the undertaking than Mr. Kelk or Messrs. Charles and Thomas Lucas. This calculation is based on the payments throughout from all sources only averaging £2600 a day. But yesterday the money payment at the doors was in round numbers £3075, and the receipts from other sources we have mentioned—the head-money, sale of catalogues, care of sticks, etc., which is, of course, always in proportion to the attendance,—probably brought up this sum to £3300. If this was the average to the close it would give the Commissioners £330,000, in addition to their £220,000, enabling them to wind up with £10,000 clear profit. This is taking the moderate view of the case, for the Exhibition is most steadily rising in popular favor, and even admitting that there will be many wet and unfavorable days, when the attendance will be less than 30,000, still, there will be very many days, especially towards the close, when 50,000, 60,000, or even 100,000 will pay their shilling.

It is not probable that the men who have the most extensive practical experience of excursion traffic in the autumn—say that the numbers of country visitors who will flock to London after the harvest will be so great as to bring the daily average of receipts from all sources from this time up to £4000. To sum up all, therefore, it appears that if matters went on to the close as poorly as they did for the first fortnight of the shilling days, still everything would be paid, but Messrs. Kelk and Lucas would only receive £29,000 out of their £100,000. If the receipts go on as they are doing now every one will be paid in full, and some £10,000 remains in hand, but if they advance, as the traffic managers of the railways say they will do, the Commissioners will wind up triumphantly with some £70,000 or £80,000 in hand. With good weather the chances seem in favor of the last of these views.—European Times.

ADVERTISING FOR A WIFE AND SELLING THE LADY FOR £27.—In the Sheriff's Court, London, on the 23rd ult., the case of Rye v. Kovtshi was tried. The plaintiff in this case, sought to recover £5 upon a certain I O U, alleged to have signed by the defendant on behalf of a third person. Mr. Buchanan (for defendant): If your honor will permit me I can simplify matters very much by stating that no consideration ever passed for the I O U. The defendant is the head cook at the Castle Tavern, in Gresham street, and he was acquainted with a Mr. Camera. Now, Mr. Camera advertised for a wife—(laughter) and a certain young lady answered the advertisement. (Renewed laughter.) Mr. Camera, however, was not quite satisfied; either the lady was not pretty enough, or had not money enough. (Laughter.) But for some reason or other he said to defendant—"You want a wife; it is a pity the lady should be disappointed—(laughter)—you shall have her for £27. (Shouts of laughter.) Defendant thinking a good wife cheap at £27, gave a bill for the amount. (Here the gravity of the judge quite gave away, and he could not but join in the bursts of laughter which greeted the speech of the learned gentleman.) The lady, however, turned up her nose at defendant. "What!" said she, "marry a cook—a common cook! No, indeed, I haven't come to that yet." (Great laughter.) Mr. Camera then said to the defendant, "Well, the sale is off, and you may have your bill back; but she may be sued, for women are changeable, so you shall have her for £3. Give me your I O U for £3, and if you should marry the lady pay me." As the lady was still obstinate, he (Mr. Buchanan) contended that no consideration had passed. The court found a verdict for the defendant, with costs.

A NEW STEAMBOAT.—An account both curious and important comes from Antwerp describing the performance on the Scheldt of a newly invented steam craft propelled with perfect ease and amenable to the most accurate guidance, while dispensing altogether with the comparatively cumbersome mechanism of either paddle-wheel or screw. The motive power is simply a central pump forcing a continuous stream into two lateral tubes, the rapid backward gush from which propels the bark, and is not liable to the entangling or disarrangement incidental to both the other systems of propulsion. The doctoryard of MM. Cockerill has launched this specimen from a working model of Herr Seidel, and it is to ply forthwith on the Meuse, and between Liege and Seraing.

A Pow in the Levant.

A correspondent writes from Chios, on the 24th of May: "Chios is in quite a state of ferment to-day, owing to the Pacha of Rhodes having been compelled to apologise for having insulted the British flag. I hastily send you the particulars. Her Majesty's sloop Foxhound, Captain Hobart (brother of Lord Hobart), was cruising near Rhodes, on the lookout for pirates, who were said to be about there. As he could not run into the little creek, &c., along the coast with the ship, he engaged a Greek boat, and manned her with his first lieutenant and eight men, fully armed, to search along the shore. The Foxhound lay 40 or 50 miles off, so as not to be seen by any pirates about the coast. While the boat was searching about near a place called Yali, on the coast opposite Rhodes, the Pacha came by with his small steamer, and, thinking this boat contained pirates, fired a shot at her to bring her to the steamer, but the boat kept on, and the Pacha fired a second shot, at which the boat pulled alongside the steamer. The Turk told them to come on board. The officer, and men, not suspecting anything, went on board unarmoured, and as soon as each man came on deck he was roughly seized by the Turks, knocked down, and had his hands lashed behind his back and then thrown down into the hold. The lieutenant was also served in the same way, and his sword was broken. They were kept prisoners in this way for two hours, and were barbarously treated by the Turks, who stole everything they could from them. At the end of two hours they were fetched up and interrogated by the Pacha and some officers. Neither the English officer nor his men knew any other language than English, so the Pacha fetched an engineer he had on board, who spoke a little English, and who interpreted for them. The officer had his uniform cap on, and was regularly furnished with papers; the men were dressed in their proper man-of-war dress, with the name of their ship round their hats, were fully armed with regulation revolvers, muskets, and bayonets with stores and everything on board with the English mark on. Besides, the men could not be mistaken from English 'Jack-tars'; they had regular Anglo-Saxon features, and what is more, they had the English flag flying on their boat. How the Turks could mistake them for pirates is a mystery. When they found the boat's crew undeniably English, they let them go, and the Pacha gave the lieutenant a kind of letter of justification for what he had done. The lieutenant, as soon as he got to his ship, reported to the captain what had happened. The captain was furious, and gave chase to the Pacha. He followed him to Rhodes, and found he had left for Cos. He went to Cos, and several other islands, but always arrived too late. He arrived here, (Chios) on Thursday evening, and found the Pacha had left that morning, on which he wrote an awful strong telegram to him at Smyrna, summoning him to come to Chios immediately, and to give him full satisfaction. The Pacha arrived this morning, and has given full satisfaction. The captain demanded an ample written apology, 100 piastres to be given to each of the English sailors, all the things stolen to be returned, and that the Turks who had maltreated the Englishmen should be punished in such a manner that he (Captain Hobart) wished; and, finally, the English flag should be saluted with 21 guns. The Pacha acceded to everything immediately, except the salute, but the captain was firm, and made him do it, and, after everything had been done as required, the Foxhound saluted the Turkish flag, and then the Pacha left Chios with his steamer—doubtless glad to get away from the clutches of the Glaoui."

DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

Should be in the possession of everybody in the mining region. As a preventive of various dangerous diseases to which the gold seeker is liable, it has no superior. While it is quite palatable even as a beverage, it is speedy and powerful in its effects upon the system. In all cases of Diarrhoea, Dysentery, and the prevailing fevers consequent upon exposure, the Bitters will be found invaluable as a corrective. No man should enter upon the exposed camp life of a miner without being provided with Hostetter's preventive of stomach disease, nor should any of those who are now engaged in the occupation, fail to have recourse to the Bitters.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.

The treatment pursued by Professor Holloway for the cure of wounds and ulcers is the most simple and certain in its effects, it has been tried by hundreds of thousands, and never been known to fail; by the administration of an internal remedy (the Pills), he drives disease out, and by the administration of an external remedy (the Ointment), he heals wounds, ulcers, and the worst of external disorders. By this celebrated treatment, also, bad legs, and ulcers, are cured, even when they have been upwards of twenty years standing.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S
Chlorodyne.
CHOLERA, DYSENTERY, DIARRHOEA,
CRAMP, AGUE, FEVER, RHEUMA-TISM, CONSUMPTION, ASTHMA,
COUGH, &c.
AL. PAIN, VOMITING AND DISTRESS
cesses in a few minutes after taking a dose of this wonderful Sarsaparilla, and Assymet-ric remedy discovered by Dr. J. Collis Browne, M.R.C.S. (ex-Army Med. Staff), the recipe of which was confided to J. T. Davenport, 38 Great Russell street, Bloomsbury, London, W. (Pharmaceutical Chemist). The medical testimony of civil, hospital, military and naval practitioners pronounces it INVALUABLE. It relieves pain of any kind, soothes
the restlessness of fever, and induces the most refreshing sleep, without producing or leaving any of
the unpleasant effects of opium.
As a proof of its efficacy, a few extracts from numerous testimonials by Physicians and Surgeons are given:
From W. Vesalins Pettigrew, M.D., Hon. F.R.C.S., England, formerly Lecturer upon Anatomy and Physiology at St. George's School of Medicine: "I have used it in Consumption, Asthma, Diarrhoea and other diseases, and am most perfectly satisfied with the result."
Dr. Gibson, Army Medical Staff, Calcutta: "Two doses completely cured me of Diarrhoea." From C. V. Ridout, Esq., Surgeon, Egham: "As an astringent in severe Diarrhoea and an antispas-modic in Colic and Cramps in the Abdomen, the relief is instantaneous."
Extracts from the General Board of Health,
London, as to its efficacy in Cholera.
1st Stage of Preliminary—In this stage the remedy acts as a charm, one dose generally sufficient.
2nd Stage, or that of Vomiting and Purging—In this stage the remedy possesses great power, more
the restlessness of fever, and induces the most refreshing sleep, without producing or leaving any of
the unpleasant effects of opium.
3rd Stage, or Collapse—In all cases restoring the pulse. So strongly are we convinced of the immense value of this remedy, that we cannot too forcibly urge the necessity of using it in all cases.
From A. Montgomerie, Esq., late Inspector of Hospitals, Bombay: "Chlorodyne is a most valuable remedy in Cholera, Asiatic Cholera, and Dysentery."
I fairly owe my restoration to health after eighteen months' severe suffering, and when all other medicines failed, to the use of this extraordinary remedy.
The Government of India, the most respected of the world, has given its endorsement to this remedy. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne is engraved thereon. A sheet full of medical testimonials accompanies each bottle. Sole manufacturer, J. T. DAVENPORT, 38 Great Russell street, Bloomsbury, London, W.
In bottles, 2s 6d and 5s 6d.

Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry,
The Best Remedy ever known to Man,
For Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Bronchitis, Influenza, Bleeding of the Lungs, Difficult Breathing, Liver Affections,
Pain or Weakness of the Breast or Side, First Stages of Consumption, &c., &c.
In short, this Balsam is peculiarly adapted to every disease of the Lungs and Liver, which is produced by our ever-varying climate.
Influenza and Consumption.
It is indeed a melancholy truth that thousands fall victims to consumption every year from no other cause than neglected colds; yet we find hundreds of thousands who, by the use of this Balsam, a medicine of the greatest value, and let them run on for weeks,
and even months, without thinking of the danger.
At first you have what you consider a slight cough or cold, you allow it to pass, and are careless or negligent to prevent you from giving it any attention; it then settles upon your breast, you become hoarse, have pains in the sides or chest, expectorate large quantities of matter, perhaps with blood, and a gradually increasing cough, and then you find your own foolish neglect has brought on this complaint. If, then, you value your life or health, be warned in time and do not allow it to pass, but immediately purchase a bottle or two of that famous remedy, Dr.
WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, which is well known to be the most speedy cure ever known, as thousands will testify whose lives have been saved by it.
For Influenza it is the very best medicine in the world.
Be not deceived, remember that it is
Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry that performs the most wonderful cures, and it is the only one that affords you immediate relief.

Dr Guyon's Improved Extract of Yellow-Dock and Sarsaparilla.
THIS EXTRACT OF YELLOW-DOCK AND SARSAPARILLA is a positive, speedy and permanent cure for all diseases incident to females.
Its mild alterative properties render it peculiarly applicable to the slender and delicate constitution of the female. It is unrivalled in its effect upon such diseases as Incipient Consumption, Barrenness, Leucorrhoea or Whites, Irregular Menstruation, Incontinence of Urine, and General Prostrati-
on of the system.
It immediately counteracts that distressing Nervousness and Lassitude so common to the female frame and imparts an energy and buoyancy as surprising as they are grateful. We have evidence on file which induces us strongly to recommend this medicine to married people who have not been blessed with offspring.
The Shaker preparation "Yellow-Dock" and the Red
"Honduras Sarsaparilla" are the invaluable remedial agents from which Dr. Guyon's Improved Extract of Yellow-Dock and Sarsaparilla is formed, and the efficacy of his preparation has given us the fame of the roots in their perfection. His preparation contains all the restorative properties of the roots combined and concentrated to their utmost strength and efficacy.
Experiments were made in the manufacture of this medicine until it was found that it could not be farther improved.
Accordingly we find it resorted to almost universally in cases of Hepatic, Scrofulic and Cutaneous complaints for general prostration of all the vital powers and all those tormenting diseases of the skin trying to the patience and so injurious to the health.

EXTENSIVE FRAUDS.
A P. H. having discovered that several of the For-

TATIONS of the "WORCESTERSHIRE SAUCE," the labels of which closely resemble those of the genuine Sauce, and in one or more instances with the names of Lea & Perrins, they have deemed their duty to caution the public, and to request purchasers to see that the names of LEA & PERRINS are upon the Wrapper, Label, Stopper and Bottle.
R. & L. further give notice that they will proceed against any one who may infringe upon their right,
